

DEVELOPING SKILLS IN THE DEFENCE SECTOR

People, both military and civilian, are a critical component of defence capability. As a partner to UK Government and the Defence School of Transport, we design and manage driver training to help upskill and reskill people serving and supporting the Army, Royal Air Force and Navy.

Mainstream is a driver training specialist with skilled instructors, many of whom are Veterans, training people to drive different categories of vehicles, using different vehicle types and manufacturers. In 2023, we provided over 75,000 driver training hours to the defence sector.

Mainstream is a purpose-led, responsible SME and since 2017, a proud signatory of the Armed Forces Covenant. The Covenant and our pledges are an important part of our social value approach.

We encourage our partners and supply chains to also pledge to help improve the lives and outcomes of serving personnel, veterans and their families.
